

THE KUGLER SYSTEM

RETIREMENT CONCEPTS TECHNIQUE BOOK

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Disclosure Page

Introduction

Dual Use of Technique Book / Assumptions Used in Text

Review of Important Concepts

Chapter I: The Advantages of Tax Sheltered Assets

Tax Deductible IRA vs. After-Tax Savings for Retirement (Example 1)

Tax Deductible IRA vs. Non-Deductible Tax Deferred Annuity (Example 2)

Tax Deductible IRA with After-Tax Investment of IRA Tax Savings (Example 3)

Tax Deductible IRA vs. Non-Deductible Roth IRA (Example 4)

The Roth IRA vs. a Tax Deductible IRA and Supplemental Investment of Tax Savings (Example 5)

The Roth IRA versus a Tax Deductible IRA with Benefits Payable via the Uniform Distribution Table (Example 6)

The Advantages of Starting Retirement Contributions Early (Example 7)

The Roth Advantage of No Required Lifetime Distributions (Example 8)

Participating in Both a Qualified Retirement Plan and a Roth IRA (Example 9)

Roth 401(k) (Example 10)

The Cumulative Results of Maximum Contributions to Several Retirement Plans (Example 11)

Additional Individual Contributions at Age 50 (Example 12)

Credit for Low and Middle Income Taxpayers for Contributions to Qualified Retirement Plans and IRAs (Example 13)

Chapter II: Distributions from a Qualified Plan or Individual Retirement Account Prior to Age 59½

Review of General Distribution Concepts

Options upon Separation from Employment (Example 14)

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Page 2

Separation from Employment and the Potential 20% Mandatory Withholding Requirement (Example 15)

In-service Distributions (Example 16)

Loans from Qualified Plans – Deemed Distributions (Example 17)

Excess 401(k) Contributions and Deferrals (Example 18)

Severance of Employment after age 55 and Subsequent Withdrawals From the Qualified Plan (Example 19)

Structuring Pre Age 59½ Withdrawals under IRC Section 72(t) and IRS Notice 89-25 (Example 20)

Systematic Withdrawals from an IRA Prior to Age 59½ to Pay for Education (Example 21)

The Advantages of Splitting Your IRA and Taking Systematic Withdrawals Prior to Age 59½ (Example 22)

The Difference between Distributions from a Profit Sharing Plan and an IRA for the 10% Penalty Prior to Age 59½ (Example 23)

Taking Distributions Prior to 59½ and a Subsequent Desire to Terminate Distributions (Example 24)

Distributions Prior to 59½ and a Subsequent Desire to Increase Distributions (Example 25)

Change of Distribution Prior to 59½ Due to Divorce – Qualified Domestic Relations Orders (QDRO's) (Example 26)

Termination of Employment during a Year in Which Account Values Have Either Substantially Increased or Decreased in a Non-Self Directed Defined Contribution Plan (Example 27)

Chapter III: Distributions on or after attaining age 59½ or at Early Retirement

Distributions between Age 59½ and 70½ (Example 28)

Electing Special Ten Year Averaging or Rollover to an Individual Retirement Account (Example 29)

Voluntary Contributions – Cost Basis (Example 30)

Transfer from One IRA to Another – Rules and Restrictions (Example 31)

Distributions from Tax Sheltered Annuities (403(b) Plans) Before Age 70½ (Example 32)

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Page 3

Chapter IV: Distribution Options at Normal Retirement Age from a Qualified Plan

Selecting a Lump Sum or Annuity Option (Example 33)

Distributions in a Defined Benefit Plan Where a Lump Sum is not Available (Example 34)

Forgoing the Joint and Survivor Annuity from Your Qualified Plan when the Non-Participant Spouse is in Poor Health (Example 35)

Structuring the Retirement Assets to Provide for Children of the Married Participant (Example 36)

Options for a Qualified Plan Participant with Creditor Problems (Example 37)

Chapter V: Required Beginning Date and Distribution Options

Introduction

Required Beginning Date (RBD) (IRA Owner/QRP Plan Participant) (Example 38)

Minimum Required Distributions (MRDs) (Example 39)

Required Beginning Date – Taking Distribution at Age 70½ Rather Than Deferring until April 1st of the Following Year (Example 40)

Required Beginning Date – No Distribution at Age 70½ - Two Distributions the Following Year (Example 41)

Minimum Required Lifetime Distributions at Age 70½ and Subsequent IRA Rollover by Surviving Spouse (Example 42)

Minimum Required Lifetime Distributions at Age 70½ with 15 Year Younger Spouse as Sole Beneficiary (Example 43)

Payout or MRD for Year of Death when IRA Owner Dies After the RBD (Example 44)

Using IRA Funds to Purchase a Lifetime Annuity to Cover Essential Living Expenses (Example 45)

Annuity Purchase to Cover Both Spouses' Essential Living Expenses (Example 46)

Advantages of Multiple Annuity Formats in Structuring Retirement Income (Example 47)

Direct Transfer of IRA Funds to a Qualified Public Charity by an IRA Owner who has Reached Age 70½ (Example 48)

Rights of a Spousal Designated Beneficiary (Traditional IRA) (Example 49)

Rights of a Spousal Designated Beneficiary (Roth IRA) (Example 50)

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Page 4

Minimum Required Lifetime Distributions at Age 70½ with Non-Spouse Beneficiary (Example 51)

Rights Provided to a Non-Spousal Designated Beneficiary from a Qualified Plan (Example 52)

Determining the RBD and MRDs for the IRA Owner and the Designated Beneficiary (Example 53)

Advantage of an Outright Spousal Designated Beneficiary in a Roth IRA (Example 54)

Distributions at Age 70½ from a Qualified Plan and Several Individual Retirement Accounts (Example 55)

Required Beginning Date for a Plan Participant with a 242(b) Election (Example 56)

Failure to Commence Distributions at the Required Beginning Date (Example 57)

Doing a Spousal IRA Rollover Years after the Death of the IRA Owner (Example 58)

Post Death IRA Rollovers by Subsequent Surviving Spouse (Example 59)

Establishing a Qualified Plan for an Individual Over 70½ (Example 60)

Chapter VI: Designated Beneficiary

What is the Significance of a Designated Beneficiary?

Waiver of Spousal Rights to Qualified Retirement Benefits (Example 61)

Designated Beneficiary at the Required Beginning Date (Example 62)

Changing Beneficiaries after the Required Beginning Date (Example 63)

Flexibility with Designating Different Distributions for Different Accounts (Example 64)

Chapter VII: Death with Assets Remaining in Qualified Retirement Plans or IRA's Payable to Individuals

Death before the Required Beginning Date (RBD) with an Older Spouse as Designated Beneficiary (Example 65)

Death before the Required Beginning Date (RBD) with Younger Spouse as Designated Beneficiary (Example 66)

Death before the RBD with Pre Age 59½ Spouse as Designated Beneficiary (Example 67)

Death after the RBD with Pre Age 59½ Spouse as Designated Beneficiary (Example 68)

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Page 5

Death after the Required Beginning Date (RBD) with Younger Spouse as Designated Beneficiary (Example 69)

Death after the Required Beginning Date (RBD) with Older Spouse as Designated Beneficiary (Example 70)

Death of the Surviving Spouse in Situations Where the IRA Rollover is Postponed Until the RBD (Example 71)

Outright Distribution to Surviving Spouse vs. Conduit QTIP Trust Arrangement (Example 72)

Outright Distribution to Surviving Spouse vs. Accumulation QTIP Trust Arrangement (Example 73)

Death of IRA Owner with Younger Non-Spouse Designated Beneficiary (Example 74)

Death after the Required Beginning Date with Older Non-Spouse Designated Beneficiary (Example 75)

Death before the Required Beginning Date with Multiple Designated Beneficiaries – Distribute (Example 76)

Death after the Required Beginning Date with Multiple Designated Beneficiaries - Divide (Example 77)

Post Death Distribution Strategies by Designated Beneficiary – Distribute, Disclaim and/or Divide (Example 78)

Death before the Required Beginning Date with No Qualifying Designated Beneficiary (Example 79)

Death after the Required Beginning Date with No Qualifying Designated Beneficiary (Example 80)

Chapter VIII: Estate Strategies with Pension Assets – Death with Assets Payable to Trusts

Introduction

Benefits Payable to a Surviving Spouse via an Accumulation QTIP Trust (Example 81)

Benefits Payable to Surviving Spouse via a Conduit QTIP Trust (Example 82)

The Conduit IRA QTIP Trust vs. a Traditional IRA QTIP Trust (Example 83)

Using the Surviving Estate Owner's Assets to Fund a Credit Shelter Trust for a Spouse that Predeceases with a Large IRA but Insufficient Other Assets to Fund a Credit Shelter Trust (Example 84)

Using a Joint Revocable Trust to Fund a Credit Shelter Trust for the Married Estate Owner at The Death of the First Spouse to Die (Example 85)

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Page 6

The Advantage of the IRA Rollover to the Designated Beneficiary (Example 86)

The Significance of How Benefits are Payable to a Surviving Spouse (Example 87)

How Benefits are Payable to the Surviving Spouse Determines the Duration of the Subsequent Payout to the Non-Spousal Beneficiary (Example 88)

Using a Qualified Retirement Plan to Fund a Qualified Domestic Trust (QDOT) (Example 89)

Benefits Payable to a Surviving Spouse via a Disclaimer (Credit Shelter) Trust (Example 90)

The Estate Distribution in Multiple Marriage Situations (Example 91)

Benefits Payable to a Credit Shelter Trust for the Surviving Spouse and Children (Example 92)

The Conduit IRA Bypass Trust vs. a Traditional IRA Bypass Trust (Example 93)

Benefits Payable to Non-Spouse Beneficiaries (Credit Shelter or Other Trusts) (Example 94)

Benefits Payable to Grandchildren Trusts Utilizing the Maximum Generation Skipping Transfer (GST) Tax Exemption (Example 95)

Paying Estate Taxes on Qualified Retirement Plans and IRAs (Example 96)

Life Insurance to Pay Estate Tax on the Qualified Plan Death Benefit (Example 97)

Funding your Pecuniary (Dollar Amount) Bequests with your IRA or Qualified Plan (Example 98)

Should I Fund my Credit Shelter Trust with a Roth IRA or a Traditional IRA? (Example 99)

Death Bed Strategies via IRA Conversion to a Roth IRA (Example 100)

The Advantage of Using Qualified Plan Assets or IRAs to Fund Charitable Bequests (Example 101)

Testamentary Charitable Remainder Trust (Funded with Qualified Retirement Proceeds) (Example 102)

Obtaining an Income Tax Deduction for the Estate Tax When an IRA is Paid to a CRAT for the Benefit of a Non-Spouse Beneficiary (Example 103)

Distributions from an Inherited Income IRA in lieu of Investment Income (Example 104)

Using Distributions from an Inherited IRA to Support Retirement Plan Contributions (Example 105)

Chapter IX: Stretch Out or Elongated Payments

Elongated Qualified Plan Distribution Techniques (Example 106)

Analysis of Stretch Out IRAs under Different Spousal Beneficiary Options (Death after RBD) (Example 107)

Analysis of Stretch Out IRAs under Different Spousal Beneficiary Options (Death before RBD) (Example 108)

Chapter X: Conversion to a Roth IRA

Using Non-IRA Funds to Pay the Income Tax on a Roth Conversion When the IRA Owner (Age 70) Wants to Maximize After-Tax Distributions for His Son (Example 109)

Using IRA Funds to Pay the Income Tax on a Roth Conversion When the IRA Owner (Age 70) Wants to Maximize After-Tax Distributions for His Son (Example 110)

Conversion to a Roth IRA Using the IRA Assets to Pay the Tax (Example 111)

Conversion to a Roth IRA at a Younger Age (Example 112)

Re-Characterization from an IRA to a Roth IRA and Back to an IRA Again (Example 113)

Chapter XI: Life Insurance as Part of a Qualified Retirement Plan

Life Insurance in a Defined Contribution Plan (Example 114)

Tax Aspects of Life Insurance in a Defined Contribution Plan (Example 115)

Life Insurance in a Defined Benefit Pension Plan (Example 116)

Distribution Options with a Life Insurance Policy as Part of your Qualified Retirement Plan (Example 117)

Utilizing a Qualified Retirement Plan to Enhance your Estate Distribution (Example 118)

The Purchase of Survivorship Life Insurance in a Qualified Profit Sharing Plan for Subsequent Transfer to an Irrevocable Life Insurance Trust (Example 119)

IRA Rollover To a Qualified Retirement Plan and Subsequent Purchase of Survivorship Life Insurance (Example 120)

Using a Qualified Retirement Plan or IRA Death Proceeds to Fund a Charitable Remainder Trust with a Wealth Replacement Option (Example 121)

Using Life Insurance as a Wealth Replacement Option for a Gift at Death of Qualified Plan or IRA Owner (Example 122)

Section 412(i) Defined Benefit Plan (Example 123)

Chapter XII: Miscellaneous Concepts

Locate and Read IRA Documents and Beneficiary Designation Forms (Example 124)

Distribution of Employer Securities (Example 125)

Pledging, Assigning or Alienating Qualified Retirement Plan Assets (Example 126)

Pledging, Assigning or Alienating Qualified Retirement Plan Benefits for a Qualified Domestic Relations Order (QDRO) (Example 127)

Excess Nonqualified Deferred Compensation Programs (Example 128)

Appendices

Introduction

A. Lifetime Minimum Required Distributions – Uniform Table

B. Joint Life Expectancy Table - Used when surviving spouse is sole beneficiary and more than ten years younger

C. Single Life Expectancy Table – IRS Regulation 1.72-9 Table V

D. Equal Periodic Payments under Code Section 72(t)

E. Defined Benefit Distribution Table

F. Ten Year Averaging Table

G. Typical Beneficiary Mistakes

H. Considerations Regarding Conversions to a Roth IRA